FOREWORD AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Through FOCUS ON PEOPLE, a series of K-12 multimedia bibliographies, the Department of Instructional Resources of the Montgomery County Public Schools is continuing its efforts to provide MCPS personnel with appropriate, up-to-date materials which will help children to attain positive self-images. The series focuses on several minority groups and highlights curriculum materials which provide accurate portrayals of the heritage, history, and heroes of these minority groups. The series also highlights some of the available sources and resources which will reinforce staff efforts to achieve and enhance educational equity for all MCPS students.

The Black American was compiled by Monica Suchoski, librarian and Regina K. Crutchfield, coordinator of Evaluation and Selection, as a supplement to bibliographies previously published by MCPS: Negroes in American Life, 1968; Negroes in American Life, 1969 Supplement; Negroes in American Life (nonprint media), 1971; and The Black Story, 1969.

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RELATIONS
POLICY STATEMENT

A fundamental goal of the Montgomery County Public Schools is to establish and maintain an atmosphere in which students and staff can develop attitudes for effective, cooperative living, including:

1. Respect for the individual, regardless of economic status, intellectual ability, race, creed, color, religion, sex or age

2. Respect for cultural differences

3. Respect for the economic, political, and social rights of others

4. Respect for the right of others to seek and maintain their own identities

The school system must continue to reexamine all the parts of the curriculum thoroughly to make sure that it reflects a policy of positive human relations. The instructional materials used in the schools must reflect the histories, contributions, and cultures of the various ethnic groups in our society. Children from minority groups must be helped to establish their identity with their own ethnic groups as well as with the society as a whole.

It is essential for the school system to provide training opportunities for all staff members so that they may become more sensitive to the needs of all children and adults. It is also essential that students, parents[/guardians], and citizens become more knowledgeable about problems of human relations in the school and the community.

The school system must continue to reexamine its policies and procedures to determine their effect on individual and group behavior and to make changes where improvement of human relations is possible.

The Montgomery County Public Schools shall continue to make opportunities for employment and promotion avilable to every candidate solely on the basis of his[/her] qualifications and without regard to religion, ethnic, or racial origin.

The school system shall utilize every opportunity to work with other institutions and agencies in the community. In addition, the school system should continue to make channels available through which citizens can communicate their concerns about human relations problems and their intellectual and moral resources for improvement.

Call Human Relations, 279-3166.
